

Annual Report

2024 - 2025

Yuvaka Sangha is a Bengaluru-based non-profit organization dedicated to empowering the youth and fostering their all-round growth. We have evolved into a Prominent Forum for college students, making affordable, accessible, and high-quality education a reality.

Our journey began during the pre-independent era as a News Reading Centre, and after India gained freedom from colonial rule, we embraced a noble mission in education. Since then, we take immense pride in offering equal opportunities to underprivileged students through various educational initiatives.

Today, Yuvaka Sangha is a driving force in the lives of young individuals, not only imparting knowledge but also igniting their potential as agents of positive change for our nation.

Our aim is to empower them to become active contributors to the greater community, forging a path towards a brighter future for all. Together, we envision a world where every youth's dreams and aspirations are nurtured, creating a stronger, more vibrant society for generations to come.

Yuvaka Sangha is steadfastly committed to working towards the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), aligning its efforts to create a positive impact and contribute to a sustainable and equitable future.

Vision

To empower the upcoming generations with outstanding academics and help them discover their fullest capabilities.

Mission

To ensure youth development for national development.

Message

From the President

It is with profound honor that I present the annual report for 2024-25, capturing the essence of our efforts and achievements throughout the year. Each endeavor we undertook is a testament to our unwavering commitment to empowering the youth and fostering a culture of growth, learning and social responsibility. Through collaboration and collective action, we have not only overcome challenges, but also uncovered new opportunities to make a meaningful impact on the communities we serve.

Our progress reflects the strength of unity, innovation and perseverance that defines us as an organization. From educational initiatives nurturing young minds to cultural programs celebrating heritage, and environmental efforts promoting sustainability, every project stands as a beacon of hope and positive transformation. These initiatives reflect our vision of creating an inclusive society where every young individual has the opportunity to thrive and contribute to nation-building.

I extend my heartfelt gratitude to our managing committee members, volunteers, supporters, and community members for their dedication and trust in our mission. Your commitment drives our progress and strengthens us to resolve and to continue working towards a better tomorrow. As we move forward, let us remain steadfast in our pursuit of excellence, equity, and sustainability, empowering the youth to lead the change and shape the future.

Sincerely,

Dr. T V Raju

As an academic leader, I value partnerships that strengthen students' intellectual capacity and sense of social responsibility, and Yuvaka Sangha reflects this commitment. Through initiatives such as the Student Lit Fest, Prajna Mental Health Conference and Campus 2 Community, Yuvaka Sangha has provided our students with opportunities that extend far beyond conventional classroom learning.

These experiences have built critical leadership qualities, encouraged collaborative learning and reinforced a strong foundation of values among the students. Such exposure has been instrumental in preparing our students to navigate complex challenges with empathy, vision and integrity. Chanakya University greatly values its association with Yuvaka Sangha and remains committed to strengthening this collaboration.

Transformative community development thrives when intent turns into measurable outcomes, and Yuvaka Sangha exemplifies this through perseverance and purpose. Its work in rural Karnataka—especially the 35 School Transformation Program—has revitalised government schools across Chamarajanagar, Kodagu, and other regions, enhancing infrastructure, learning environments, and community pride.

Equally commendable is its engagement with corporates, designing programmes that allow employees to contribute meaningfully and witness real impact. This structured model not only ensures tangible outcomes but also fosters a sense of responsibility and ownership among volunteers. Yuvaka Sangha effectively bridges corporate goodwill with grassroots needs, driving sustainable, scalable community transformation.

The journey of SRISHTI from 2002 to 2024 reflects over two decades of fostering innovation and creativity among young minds. Comparing the innovations of 2002 with those of 2024 highlights the remarkable growth in scientific thinking and problem-solving.

Yuvaka Sangha has played a pivotal role in this journey by promoting science education, innovation, and curiosity through SRISHTI. The initiative also focuses on strengthening industry-institution collaboration, bridging the gap between industrial needs and academic research.

Scientists and engineers continue to drive progress, and SRISHTI stands as a testament to how innovation can shape a better and more sustainable future for all.

Art has the power to connect people beyond language and culture, weaving stories that celebrate our shared heritage. Yuvaka Sangha has been instrumental in nurturing this spirit through its cultural initiatives that inspire youth to explore both traditional and contemporary art forms.

These platforms encourage young artists to express their creativity, collaborate with peers, and learn from experienced mentors. By fostering participation in puppetry, dance, music, and visual arts, Yuvaka Sangha builds appreciation for India's artistic diversity.

Its efforts seamlessly blend age-old traditions with modern perspectives, ensuring that the essence of our cultural identity continues to thrive for generations to come.

Being part of the volunteering team for the Student Lit Fest at Yuvaka Sangha was a truly enriching experience. Engaging with inspiring personalities like Dr. M.K. Sridhar, Suchendra Prasad, and Prakash Belawadi broadened my perspective. Hosting Samashti Gubbi ma'am's Sanskrit masterclass deepened my love for the language. From organizing events to witnessing sessions on AI, cartooning, photography, and dance, every moment was inspiring. Meeting Rukmini Vijaykumar ma'am was especially memorable. The festival nurtured creativity, dialogue, and growth—revealing the immense potential within. I'm deeply grateful to Yuvaka Sangha and look forward to contributing to more such transformative experiences ahead.

Learn 2 Learn

The Learn 2 Learn Project 2024-2025 connects student volunteers with nearby government schools to deliver sessions on environmental education, science, technology, and career guidance. The program uses activity-based learning aligned with the school syllabus to make lessons engaging and practical.

An induction workshop for new volunteers, particularly those with a science background, was conducted on 27 June 2024. Participants received Module 1 training, covering the project's objectives, methodology, and teaching approach.

From August 2 to 10, 2024, environmental education training was conducted in three batches. Volunteers were equipped with facilitation skills and subject knowledge to deliver effective, activity-based school interventions focusing on environmental themes.

Yuvaka Sangha's School Bell Program truly deserves special recognition for taking a big step towards transforming government schools. This initiative goes beyond simply painting walls—it's about bringing learning to life. By refurbishing classrooms and creating colourful, inviting, and student-friendly spaces, the program is making schools feel alive and inspiring.

The vibrant visuals and imaginative designs don't just make the campus look beautiful—they spark curiosity, excitement, and a love for learning in children. With fun, interactive, and image-based elements, education becomes more engaging and effective. And when schools look appealing, students are naturally more eager to attend and participate.

It's a perfect blend of aesthetics and purpose. Thank you, Yuvaka Sangha, for your dedication to brightening young minds and creating joyful learning environments. Here's to supporting more initiatives that empower education through creativity.

Water Positive workshop

📅 13th November, 2024

📍 Yuvapatha, Jayanagar

A project aimed at rejuvenating local water bodies combined scientific research with community participation. Using QGIS software, the team analyzed 20 years of satellite imagery to study land use, vegetation, and watershed changes. Detailed drainage maps and LULC models provided insights into water flow and evolving land management practices.

Decadal weather data, including rainfall and temperature trends, were also assessed to understand long-term environmental shifts. Integrating geospatial analysis with local knowledge, the project designed a sustainable rejuvenation plan to enhance water recharge, retention, and overall ecosystem resilience.

Over 120 participants from 25 colleges joined the initiative. Sri Mahesh, Director, EMPRI, discussed environmental data and policy frameworks; Sri Vishwanath Srikantaiah, Founder, Biome, spoke on sustainable water management; Dr. Jija Hari Singh, I.P.S. (Retd), emphasized public responsibility in conservation; and Sri Ramprasad, Founder, Friends of Lake, highlighted citizen-led restoration models inspiring collective environmental action.

The Bengaluru Eco Summit 2025 was an eye-opening and empowering experience that brought together environmentalists, entrepreneurs, students, and policymakers on a single platform. The sessions on green economies, beauty and wellness, and home remedies provided practical insights into real-world eco-solutions. It was inspiring to see young minds and experts collaborate with a shared vision of building a greener Bengaluru. The summit emphasised that sustainability is not just an idea. It is a responsibility each of us must act on. With meaningful discussions, innovative exhibits, and impactful networking, the event left every participant motivated to contribute actively toward a cleaner, more resilient, and eco-conscious future.

My internship with Prajna, in association with Yuvaka Sangha, was a deeply enriching experience. It allowed me to connect my ideas with rural government school children while learning from their unique perspectives. Witnessing the importance of holistic well-being across all ages strengthened my facilitation and counseling skills. This journey deepened my understanding of resilience and growth, reinforcing my commitment to youth empowerment and community development with heartfelt gratitude.

Campus 2 Community

Campus 2 Community is a volunteering campaign of zealous youth from different college campuses across Karnataka inclined to bring about societal change through sheer dedication. Some concerns are multifarious and cannot be deduced with government policies alone but entail the community's involvement. Also, the journey for social change spawns with a single step; the challenge lies in initiating the first step at the grassroots level. Thus, we pitch into untangling these challenges and issues by motivating youth to apply their mind, time and energy to create a positive metamorphosis in society.

Rashtrottana Parishath, Chamrajpet

KLE Society's School, Rajajinagar

A 3-day Personality Development Program in collaboration with Rashtrottana Parishath, EY GDS, and the Indian Literacy Project. The program focused on career exploration and self-development for young aspirants.

Expert facilitators and EY GDS volunteers led engaging sessions that helped participants identify their strengths, reflect on aspirations, and build confidence. With interactive activities and discussions, students gained valuable insights into aligning their skills with future career paths. The sessions sparked curiosity, motivation, and a strong sense of purpose among the youth.

The consistent enthusiasm and active participation over the three days underscored the program's impact. We thank all the facilitators for their commitment and inspiring guidance. We remain dedicated to organizing such meaningful events that empower young minds and support their journey toward excellence.

Student & Youth Engagements

Incorporating students and youth into social initiatives holds multifaceted benefits. Beyond addressing community needs, it instills essential values like empathy, teamwork, and social responsibility from an early age. Participation in various projects, be it environmental conservation, mentoring, or disaster relief, equips them with practical skills and a broader perspective. These experiences not only bolster personal development but also empower them to become catalysts for positive change. Moreover, youth engagement in volunteering nurtures a lifelong commitment to philanthropy and active citizenship, contributing to the creation of a more compassionate, skilled, and resilient society.

The initiative focuses on three core learning modules — Hands-on Science & Technology, Practical Environmental Education, and Life Skills & Career Guidance — designed to nurture curiosity, confidence, and critical thinking among students. A key strength of L2L lies in its peer-to-peer learning model, where relatable college mentors and corporate volunteers bring classroom concepts to life, connecting education with real-world experience and inspiring future aspirations.

An independent assessment by the Centre for Educational and Social Studies (CESS) reaffirmed the program's strong outcomes: 94% of students expressed satisfaction, 95% showed improved career awareness, and 61% demonstrated higher confidence in science learning.

Learn 2 Learn exemplifies Yuvaka Sangha's commitment to building a sustainable ecosystem of empowered, future-ready learners.

Corporate Volunteering

Corporate volunteering actively engages employees in community service, enhancing team dynamics and boosting engagement. It fosters camaraderie, leadership, communication, and problem-solving skills while addressing societal needs. By immersing employees in impactful activities, corporate volunteering promotes empathy, supports sustainable development, and empowers change. This practice strengthens workforce cohesion and aligns businesses with real-world challenges for meaningful contributions.

From vibrant walls to nurturing spaces, every brushstroke and planted sapling reflected the spirit of unity and service. This effort wasn't just about improving infrastructure; it was about investing in young minds and building a brighter future for the community.

Volunteering with Campus to Community has been a truly humbling and enriching experience. It has given me the opportunity to connect with young minds, encourage curiosity through science expos, and support their growth through skill-building initiatives. Beyond education, participating in plastic-free drives and water conservation efforts deepened my social responsibility.

What makes this journey special is the spirit of collaboration and purpose that unites everyone. Campus to Community is more than an initiative—it's a movement inspiring positive, lasting change in individuals and the communities we serve.

Prasad Bilagi

Student

Before joining L2L, I was afraid of science. When volunteers introduced the kits, learning became exciting and clear through hands-on experiments. The sessions helped me understand concepts easily and discover my interests. With career guidance, I now have a clear plan for my future and feel confident about achieving it.

Seeing a child's eyes light up when they finally understand a tough concept is truly rewarding. Volunteering has taught me as much about leadership, patience, and communication as I've taught them about science. It's inspiring to be part of a movement that empowers young minds and nurtures positive change.

Student

Volunteering for the Learn 2 Learn project's Eco Danta (Clay Ganesha Model making) event at Sarakki School was an incredibly rewarding experience. Witnessing the students' enthusiasm and creativity as they crafted eco-friendly Ganesha models from clay was inspiring. The project not only provided a platform for artistic expression but also instilled important lessons about sustainability and environmental consciousness. The event's well-organized structure and support for both volunteers and students underscored the project's dedication to fostering creativity, cultural appreciation, and eco-awareness among youth.

I am grateful for the opportunity to contribute to such a meaningful initiative and eagerly anticipate further involvement with the Learn 2 Learn project. Its impact in promoting creativity and environmental stewardship serves as a testament to the importance of hands-on, experiential learning in shaping the next generation's values and skills.
